EMERGING SCHOLARS SEMINAR

10:00am-12:00pm Wednesday 28 May 2014,
Global Change Institute Seminar Room 275,
Building no.20, The University of Queensland

In partnership with Australia's Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, the UN Association of Australia has developed an Emerging Scholars Program, to encourage and support undergraduate and postgraduate students with an interest in UN-related academia.

The Queensland Emerging Scholars Program, hosted by the UNAA and Asia Pacific Centre for the Responsibility to Protect provides a space for interested students to discuss and debate ideas and challenges in their current research with senior UN academics, practitioners and representatives of relevant government agencies.

The conveners call for expressions of interest from undergraduate and postgraduate students interested in discussing their research on any theme of interest to the United Nations. Expressions of interest should include a title for a 15-minute presentation, a 200 word summary and full contact details. Those selected to present will be given the opportunity to discuss their work and will receive a small gift from the UN Association of Australia to encourage and assist their research.

The event will be followed by a buffet lunch from 12:00-1:00pm which will provide participants with further opportunity to discuss their work and future plans in an informal setting

Expressions of interest to be submitted by 12 May 2014 to:
